

2008 Master Beef Producer Program

Written by Brad Greenfield

2008 Master Beef Producer.

The Master Beef Producer program is an educational program designed to provide information to producers to help them be the very best in the country, improve their profitability and become competitive with other states. The Master Beef Producer program will be led by a team of Agriculture Specialists, Agents, and industry professionals. Through the Tennessee Agriculture Enhancement program graduates of the Master Beef Producer program are eligible to receive a 50% cost share on various items through the Tennessee Agriculture Enhancement Program.

The 2008 class will be held at the East Hickman Community Center (turn off 46 and drive approx. 1 mile. It is the white vinyl sided building on the right next to the Post Office). The course will start on Thursday October 9th, and will run every Thursday through December 4th. The week of Thanksgiving the class will be on Monday, November 24th instead of Thursday the 27th.

The cost of the course is $160, however if you have a premises ID, and a current BQA number the Tennessee Department of Agriculture will pay a $100 scholarship. YOU MUST HAVE THESE TWO ITEMS PRIOR TO THE COURSE STARTING ON THURSDAY OCTOBER 9TH, OR THE COST WILL REMAIN $160...NO EXCEPTIONS. We will be hosting a BQA class on Monday, September 29th starting at 6pm. That class will be held at the Dickson County Extension office.
